

BONGOBONGO!

A colorful building-block system – not just for kids

Fresh with vibrant colors, frisky with cheerful jungle motifs or strikingly decorative with a touch of exoticism: the multifaceted decorative world of BONGOBONGO! again sparks creative accents for modern bath styling. With this lively and light-hearted design, Steuler continues the trend it started with its successful "Louis & Ella" tile series. Like its predecessor, BONGOBONGO! too is equally appropriate for nonresidential facilities (e.g. kindergartens, daycare centers or schools) or for a playfully styled guest bathroom in a private residence and thus for fully "grown-up" room design.

The variable building-block system, which consists of diverse wall decors and floor tiles in matching and also unconventionally vibrant colors, makes almost anything possible. Whether for a merry world of experiences or a tasteful exotic oasis of wellbeing. Combined these tiles to create young, fresh concepts for rooms that offer practically infinite scope for individualistic interior design.

This colorful building-block system always makes little and big wishes come true in an outstanding creative way.
