Playing with light and metal

Impulsive reflections and constantly changing colour experiences create a feeling of perpetual change. It takes something special to make a difference. Depending on the light and the angle, the metallic look has various nuances, creating islands of colour which captivate the observer with their unique elegance.

FACTORY plays with light: anthracite and copper in a stylish metal look to create all sorts of new moods in a modern bathroom. The lively patterns are particularly effective on smooth surfaces – moving from slick and modern to pleasant and warm.

Floor tiles in the natural colours of sand and cement provide an authentic basis for this design-oriented range. Individual, stylish touches can be added to areas with splash of floor tiles in metallic silver or copper without compromising on simplicity. Welded seam borders in matching colours underline the unique handmade feel of the range. Dark, shimmering floor tiles, mosaics and skirting in anthracite and metallic copper provide a grounding for the room and, when combined with light walls, give an impression of space.

FACTORY is a perfect complement to timeless, contemporary designs. For exciting bathrooms full of clarity, charm and inspiration.
